Dear [REDACTED]

BCE FOI/2021/11

Thank you for your email request for information to the Boundary Commission for England (BCE) on 3rd August 2021, which has been considered under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 2000. In your request for information you asked:

Under the Freedom of Information Act, please could I ask whether it would be at all possible to be provided with any and all documentation relating to the planning and production of both initial and revised proposals for English constituencies which were done for both the 2013 and 2018 reviews, both of which were now defunct. I am particularly interested in what alternative constituencies were come up with before the Commission decided on those that went forward into the initial and revised proposals.

I understand that this information was previously withheld during the process of those previous reviews, but considering that the current review has been conducted under a different set of guidelines, namely retaining 650 constituencies rather than reducing to 600, I hope that this information could now be published without there being a detrimental impact on the current review.

Providing you with any correspondence between review officers/managers and Assistant Commissioners/Commissioners would exceed the FOI time limit. Not only this, but as most of the staff from this review have now left the Commission, we would not have access to a large majority of the correspondence. May I therefore direct you to the National Archives where we have the initial proposals, the revised proposals and the commission papers and minutes from both the 2013 and 2018 review.
